Muirfield Golf Club - 18 Holes with Pull Buggy (Walking Only)

Ranked 11th in the World

(8 places only)

Muirfield, in conjunction with The Honourable Company of Edinburgh Golfers, reigns supreme in the realm of exceptional golf and a storied historical background. With a remarkable track record of hosting The Open Championship on sixteen occasions, Muirfield offers a golfing experience of unparalleled prestige. Founded in 1744, The Honourable Company of Edinburgh Golfers holds the esteemed title of being the second oldest golf club globally, credited with crafting the original 13 rules of golf. Through the passage of time, these rules have evolved, reflecting the evolution of the sport. Upon their relocation from the bustling Musselburgh links to Muirfield in 1891, the club brought with them the esteemed duty of hosting The Open Championship.

The Renaissance Club - 18 Holes with Pull Buggy (Walking Only)

Ranked 23rd in Scotland

The Renaissance Club is an exclusive private members club, that is almost as well known for its hot tub, halfway house and premium service, as it is for hosting the Scottish Open. This club, nestled on 300 acres of the famous golfing coastline of the Firth of Forth, has been the host of the Scottish Open, since 2019, and is a qualifying venue for The Open Championship. Designed by acclaimed course architect Tom Doak, holes 9 to 11 connect the course to the coastline, and the par 4 10th is a dramatic highlight with its ribbon thin fairway and fiercely tilted green sitting tight along the edge of the cliffs, high above the Firth of Forth.
